RARSfest 2022

The Raleigh ARRL Hamfest and ARRL Roanoke Division Convention 8 am – 3 pm, Saturday April 16

RARSfest 2022 is almost upon us! Online ticket sales have ended, but tickets will be available for $10 at the door.

Cousin's Confections will be indoors at RARSfest offering food and beverages from 7 am to 2 pm. The breakfast menu is biscuits (ham or sausage) and coffee; note that admission for the public begins at 8 am. The snack and lunch menu is hot dogs, polish sausages, pretzels, popcorn, lemonade, and fountain sodas.

John Brier KG4AKV will be demonstrating satellite comms outside the Jim Graham building at the northeast corner. Satellite passes are expected at 0925, 1055, and 1117 ET.

Sales of vendor booths and flea market tables have been very strong this year. But remember, RARSfest offers you even more. There's an open forum with ARRL officers, an introduction to D-Star/Fusion/DMR, NWS spotter training, and a build-an-antenna and learn-to-solder area. License exams are also available. See the event schedule at <https://rarsfest.org/forums.php>.

See you on Saturday!
